Welcome Wrestling Fans To North Dakota's First Wrestling Preview the Dakota Grappler!

There will be some fun and exciting things happening as we come upon a new millennium.

North Dakota has added a State Dual Tourney this year. *Read more about it in this issue.

Last season we watched the No-Names of Ashley/Wishek run away with their second Class B championship title in as many years. Can they three-peat?

In the Class A ranks, Williston's strong senior leadership knocked off perennial powerhouses (the Bismarck Demons and Fargo South Bruins). Williston has a tough challenge ahead, returning only one place winner from last year's team.

Now on the college scene, Division II NDSU is led by four All-Americans including two-time finalist Steve Saxlund. They are poised to rebound from a disappointing 1998-99 tournament run.

University of Mary, a perennial power in NAIA will be as tough as ever with a young but experienced class. Dickinson Blue Hawks and Jamestown Jimmies plan on giving U-of-Mary all they can handle.

On a sad note, once again we lose an important part of North Dakota wrestling history. Valley City State University is following the foot steps of UND and BSC by eliminating there proud wrestling program (note: last year I counted 19 head or assistant coached that graduated from VCSU not including myself).

Lastly, I would like to thank all the coaches, athletic directors, writers and advertisers without their help this book would not be here today.

If Dakota Grappler is to be even more successful in the future, we need help and cooperation of all coaches. It is the coaches that make wrestling work across the state. Dakota Grappler is here to give our hard working wrestlers the recognition they deserve.

Fan Help Needed!

Dakota Grappler is asking the wrestling fans to send pictures of wrestling action to be used in next year's book. Make sure the names of the individuals are placed on the back of the photos, so that the individuals can get some recognition. If you want your pictures returned send along a S.A.S.E and I will get them back to you. Send your pictures to:

Coach's Quote:
"For us to be successful, everyone on the team needs to contribute. We can't just depend on four or five individuals each time we wrestle."

The Coach is gone

A tribute to Jay Swegarden

By LAUREN DONOVAN
Bismarck Tribune

Jay Swegarden, the Beulah Miners' wrestling coach, lost a long battle with cancer at the age of 42. His battle, like his life, was an inspiration to those who knew him. "He fought to the very end. Even when he was in hospice care, he still refused to let the cancer take over, even though his suffering was unbelievable," said Rex Wenko, Beulah's athletic director.

"He refused to quit planning things. He made a tape that will be played at his funeral, thanking the community," Wenko said. "He refused to quit."

Swegarden took over a struggling wrestling program in 1990, six years after he moved to Beulah with his wife, Janelle, to teach language arts. Less than twenty kids were interested in the sport then. But with Swegarden to inspire the kids and lead the way, the numbers grew, and for the past several years Beulah has consistently ranked among the top five teams in the state.

"The program flourished," said Wenko. "I've been in this business a long time and some coaches just have a magnetism and a commitment to kids. This kids just pick up." Swegarden also became head football coach from 1991. He gave up the team two years ago to direct his energy toward wrestling and his battle against cancer. Last year, Swegarden's statebound wrestlers shaved their heads prior to the state tournament in honor of the man who had lost all but a few wisps of hair to chemotherapy. At one point, Swegarden's fight for life included experimental treatments with Denver specialists, who declared him to be cancer-free. But the disease returned.

Swegarden made it to one wrestling meet in November, but he left school in mid-December to go home. Superintendent Wilfred Volesky said Swegarden stayed in school as long as he possibly could. "We knew that he wanted to be here and we loved him here," said Volesky. "When the time came when it would be too difficult, he let us know. It is tough to lose such a fine young man."

Swegarden's family has reserved a section of the gym for the hundreds of athletes whose lives were touched by the coach. Swegarden taught them the tough physical moves of a sport in which the athlete has only himself and his wits to depend upon. And he taught them about life. "He could help a kid when he was struggling," Wendo said. "He always preached acceptable behavior. There was no grunge look or wild haircuts on the kids. He had standards."

High school junior Corey Eisenbeis will be there Thursday to honor Swegarden as a friend, as a teacher, and as a coach. He was there when Swegarden took it upon himself to tell his wrestlers he was going home to be with his family. He remembers crying with the teammates. But Eisenbeis has the memories of good times with a great coach, who taught him wrestling and helped him chart the waters for sixteen and pre-teen years.

"He always told me to hang in there and do my best," Eisenbeis says. And there was one lesson for the coach to take with him. "He said when we get done with a match, even if we lose, we shouldn't be mad if we gave it our best."

Coach Swegarden gave it his best

 Nathan Wolf 152/160 lbs.

Outlook for upcoming season...

The Beulah Miners in their second year at the Class A ranks should have some individuals that should place at the WDA and State tourneys. The individual leaders on the team will be all Seniors, with maybe a couple of underclassmen showing their skills. Tyler Whitecalfe, Brooks Sabot, Mike Bauman, and Corey Eisenbeis are all returning Seniors. Casey Sabot and Cordel Weidner are top underclassmen who I feel will also be in the top finishers. The Miners should have people in every weight class and as the year progresses, they will be challenging WDA foes.

Outlook for upcoming season...

Although Bismarck High lost three key seniors who have started for the past four years and four other hard working seniors, the Demon Coaches believe there is enough Junior Varsity talent and experience to fill the holes. However, it will take some time for our new faces to become "seasoned" enough for our team to compete for a state title. Another integral factor for the Demon wrestling squad will be the emergence of 3-4 "blue-chippers." State tournament finalists play a vital role in any championship team's aspirations. By tournament time, we hope to have gained the needed emotional, mental and technical experience to make a run as a state championship team. Other contenders for State Champions appear to be Valley City, Beulah, Dickinson and some "dark horses," with Jamestown being the front runner. Regardless of the final outcome, the first wrestling season of the new millennium expects to be exciting!

Outlook for upcoming season...

Century is returning three state placers from last year's team. With great leadership and hard work this team will improve from last years effort. Barring any injuries (like last year's team) Century can place 5+ wrestlers depending on the young wrestlers coming up the ranks.

My commitment to myself and to my teammates is that I will constantly give whatever it takes to maximize my success in this sport. If it takes more effort, I will give that. If it takes more time, I will give that. If I have to play a role for the benefit of the team, I will do that; but at the same time I will always maximize my own abilities. I feel good about myself because I am in control of my own behavior. And while all situations may not allow me to perceive myself always in the best light, I realize that I am getting closer and closer to the real me — the successful me.

Although I might sometimes choose to change some behavior of my teammates or coach, I realize that the only person I am in charge of is myself and I accept that. I am a winner and I'm going to be more of a winner. I support all my teammates who are winners and vow to infect any other teammates who are not already winners. No put-downs, no pressure, just infect them by example.

Success does not embarrass me. In fact, I intend to milk my personal successes and our team successes for their maximum.

I will recognize any errors that I make and realize that only those who strive make errors. Recognition of my own errors will be only for the purpose of pointing to the aspects of my sport performance that I must give special attention to. I will not dwell on my errors nor will I over-analyze them.

Participation in this sport is extremely important to me, as is the association with my teammates and coach. I commit myself to the objectives of the team with the knowledge and trust that I am worthy of being a team member, and that I will make a significant contribution to the team.

Can you make this commitment?

Outlook for upcoming season...

The 1999-2000 season outlook for the Saints is better than in the past. Numbers are up in all grades and the young talent is looking very promising. The Saints will fill a lineup for only the third time in my 10 years as coach.

We look to have better leadership than we have had in the past, which will help us with consistency and teamwork throughout the year. Individually we look for good things from our returning experience, Jake Maher at 103 (20 match winner last year), David and Joe Houn at 130 and 145 respectively (both picked up two victories at the state tournament last year and were one match away from placing) and finally our big guy, Jake Danks at 275 (also one match away from placing at state).

With a lot of the states talent graduating last year, we are hoping for some of our young guys to jump in and have some good success by the time the state tournament rolls around. We are very excited for the upcoming season and the future.

Jake Maher 103 lb. (9th grader) works for a pin in the West Region Tournament.

Outlook for upcoming season...

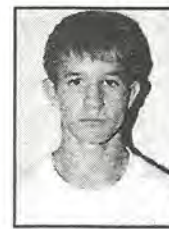

Dickinson is returning just four state participants from last year's senior-heavy team. This West Region power is rebuilding. Anchored by freshman state champion Marc Mellmer and juniors Shane Saylor and Cody Kostelecky. A good crop of young wrestlers will fill in the holes. As the year progresses and the newer varsity wrestlers get experience, Dickinson should give many teams a fit. Come Regions and State Tournament time expect individuals from this well coached team to be standing on top of the podium.

The TMCHS (Belcourt) Braves are hungry and ready to work hard to improve on last year's finish. A host of young almost untested wrestlers are chomping at the bit to get the experience needed to place at state. Team leader Austin Decoteau runner-up last year at 160 lbs. will guide this team well.

The young men really want to succeed this year. Coach Dixon mentions off season weights and working out at the fitness center will definitely help all his wrestlers.

Depending on the numbers and where the young men settle into weight will determine dual team win and losses this season. This team should be quite fun to watch.

Coyotes set goal, get it

By STEVE THOMAS
Bismarck Tribune

Williston's wrestling team wanted to make a statement this week.

Saturday night they completed what they had to say. It ended in an exclamation point by the name of David Blonder.

Blonder, a 215-pound senior, won the 215-pound title via technical fall to conclude Williston's scoring in the state Class A Tournament.

The Coyote total of 170.5 was enough for a 33.5-point buffer on runner-up Fargo South.

South edged defending champion Bismarck 137-136 for second place and Jamestown took fourth with 129.

Valley City with 112 and Dickinson with 107 also broke the 100-point barrier.

Blonder was one of three Williston champions. Earlier, Bobby Triebull took 112-pound honors and Jared Nichols won at 152.

"I wasn't trying to put an exclamation point on it," said Blonder, who trounced Jamestown's 19-3 in 3:35. "I was just trying to get the win. There was no pressure on me because we already had it (the team championship).

Williston coach Chuck Michaelson, named coach of the year by his peers, said his team followed the blueprint it had laid out before the tournament. "They just did an excellent job," he said of his team. "We said going into this we had to have everyone score and everyone did."

Nine Coyotes placed. Brad Tofte (125) and Rick Waitman (171) finished second. Ryan Hegge (130) placed third. Alan Roness (135), Eric Hageman (160) and Matt Rosslund (189) all took sixth.

Fargo South, Dickinson and Grand Forks Red River each boasted a pair of individual winners. Casey Becker, named Class A Mr. Wrestler, and Nick Fisher won at 135 and 145, respectively.

Marc Mellmer (103) and Josh Saylor (160) captured titles for Dickinson. Randy Gust (189) and Nathan Winkels (275) were Red River's champions.

Other championships went to Bismarck's Tony Bride (125), Minot's Derek Bischof (119), West Fargo's Jon Hanson (130), and Valley City's Philip Reidman (140).

Triebull (41-0), Saylor (47-0) and Gust (40-0) all finished the season undefeated. Saylor set a state record for victories and a Class A record for pins (35).

Becker and Bischof were repeat champions. Becker won at 130 last season and Bischof took 103-pound honors in 1996 and won at 112 in 1997. He was second at 119 last year.

Todd Huber of Bismarck (130) Zach Thumb of Fargo North (275) came up short in their repeat bids, falling in the finals.

Triebull said the Coyotes came into the state tournament feeling like they had to take care of unfinished business after last year's disappointing fourth-place state tourney showing.

"We wanted to beat Bismarck High so bad because last year they said it was a fluke when we beat them in a dual," he said.

Nichols also felt it was time to take care of business. "We've been real close to a state championship the last two years. Last year we fell short and this time we worked real hard for it, prepared and pulled it out at the end," he said.

Fargo South coach Lynn Forde said things had to break perfectly Saturday evening for the Bruins to finish second. "We had to get two wins and two majors to pass Bismarck and we got a little help from West Fargo in beating Huber," he said. "This was almost as fun as the year we won it (1997). I thought we wrestled about as well as we could have."

For Bismarck co-coach Jeff Schumacher, failing to repeat was tough to swallow. Williston's effort, however, made it tolerable. "Williston did an excellent job," he said. "We would have needed an outstanding tournament to beat Williston. They did a great job."

Outlook for upcoming season...

The Satans are coming off a tough year of injuries. The positive point to this is that we had a bunch of guys gain some valuable experience on the Varsity. We are only losing out of the starting line up, Ryan Fisk and T.J.Harris. Everyone else is back and we hope that Bobby Ness, who was out due to injury, can come back. Some key people coming back are Fields Olson, Randy Hilliard, Chad Zander, Jon Beckstrand, Justin Beckstrand, Scott Johnson, Shawn Larson, Chris Lawson, Paraag Patel and Tyler Steffan. Some others who have seen varsity duty and look to break into the line up are Josh Pulst, Corey Thuen, Brent Idland, Mike Thomason, Matt Wentz, Mark Solberg, Anthony Rolland and Aaron Fisk.

We figure to be a strong dual team this year in the east depending on how our guys spread out in weight. Even if we do not then we could move some people around to make us stronger. We should also be stronger in tournaments as we are now a year older and we have a good group of seniors. We are looking to our seniors to lead us through the year. We are hoping to bring home a team trophy this year in the region, which means that we are in the top four. We are also looking forward to the dual season as the state is now going to have a dual state tournament and we feel that we could be one of those teams.

The East looks to be pretty balanced between the top teams. Jamestown and Valley City definitely have an edge on most people but after that there are about four teams right behind them hoping to make the top. As far as the state is concerned the East will be pushing the West for the top spots in the state. There are at least five good teams out there so things could turn into a dogfight in the end for the top spots. Everyone has some good kids and it will be a matter of who can beat who on a given day.

The Fargo North Spartans wrestling team is looking for lost of improvement from a very young team last year. With the departure of All-American Hwt., Zach Thumb the Spartan wrestlers look for new leadership which will probably come from senior Kevin Sobolik who placed 3rd last season. The Spartans are excited about the first-ever State Dual Tournament where at any day any team could walk away with a team dual championship. Spartans young wrestlers need some experience and time on the mat and will get it as the year progresses. Just watch our two state placers wrestle in practice (Schmitz & Sobolik) and join in at the same intensity and they will be ready to succeed.

Outlook for upcoming season...

Last year we lost 4 state finalists, including state champs Casey Becker and Nick Fischer. Casey and Nick were also our team captains and tow of the best captains we've ever had at South. We also lost one other state place winner and one other senior starter. So, we not only lost a lot of talent and state tournament points, but also some great leadership.

We feel that we have a lot of work to do if we are going to be competitive next year, but the potential is there. We have a number of kids who have been wrestling this spring and quite a few returning who have had considerable varsity experience. If we continue to work hard and improve like we hope to, we think we can finish in the top 2 or 3 in the region and be in the top 4 or 5 in state. Jamestown should be the pre-season favorite to win state.

Outlook for upcoming season...

With only one returning state placer, the rebuilding process will continue at Grand Forks Central. A combination of factors (the '97 flood, a reduction of Air Force base personnel, and coaching changeovers at the elementary and middle school level) caused our numbers to be decimated a few years ago and as a result, the varsity program has struggled to regain the supremacy in the East that it had in the early nineties.

This year's squad has just one senior, two-time state qualifier Brett McDougall, and three juniors. On the long-term upside, six middle schoolers gained varsity experience last year and our lone placer, Joey Espinoza, is only a freshman. Along with Espinoza, who will likely return to the 112 pound class, the Knights will be led by defending East Region champion, Jason Manning. Manning won the 125-pound title, but failed to place at state after dropping a controversial opening round match to state champion Tony Bride of Bismarck. Manning wrestled for Team North Dakota last summer and has developed into a more complete wrestler. Another emerging Knight is sophomore 189-pounder Russ Mesteth, already a two year starter. We have several tough kids between 112 and 130, but we will need to fill some holes in the middleweights. We are still years away from being a true Region contender, but the groundwork has been laid with our revamped elementary and freestyle program to hopefully regain the consistency that was once here. We have to take care of the fish hatchery first if we hope to produce whoppers in the future.

Triumphant

The sound of a slap on the mat rings through your ears
As you get off your opponent, who is all in tears.
He has lost, while I get all the glory.
Although I feel bad for him, I am not very worry.
He was pretty good, I am just better
While he sits on e bench, I get my varsity letter.
The referee holds my hand up to the crowd,
And they scream my name, over and over, nice and loud.
I walk off the mat, upon my face is a grin
For I just got a nice, easy pin.
As I step off the mat I am congratulated by my team.
It is almost like I am having a great dream.
I find my seat on the bench and give a long sigh,
The next match is up, my moment has passed me by.

Outlook for upcoming season...

The Jamestown Blue Jays have good reason to be optimistic about the upcoming season. Ten returning starters including eight state tournament participants and five placers give the Jays a solid nucleus to build upon while seeking to repeat as East Region Champs and improve on a fourth place finish at state.

Individually, Marcus Nelson 2nd at 215 lbs., Eric Kilzer 4th at 103 lbs., Tom Schultz 4th at 152 lbs., Cody Fisher 4th at 125 lbs., and Jerrod Strode 6th at 275 lbs. Are the returning place winners.

Other returning varsity performers are Luke Berntson, Nick Olsen, Mike Jaspers, Cullen Wilson, Matt Nelson, and Russ Fennern. Matt Lucht also returns and was a starter as a sophomore. All are expected to contribute heavily this season.

Notable newcomers should include freshman Daniel White and Tony Batesole.

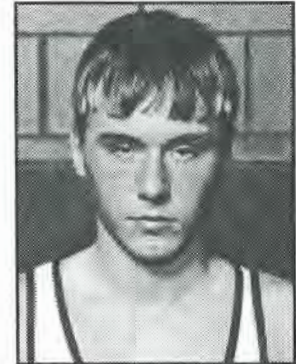

Key losses from last years team include Andy Zehren, Dave Hegland, Jay Roemmich and Travis Lorenz.

This is a senior dominated team so experience will not be lacking. The first challenge will be to find a weight class for everyone. Growth patterns can cause experienced wrestlers to land in the same weight class so we'll have to wait and see how that goes. Another question to be answered will be that of leadership. 98-99 captains Andy Zehren, Jay Roemmich, and Dave Hegland were outstanding leaders. We'll be looking for some new wrestlers to step forward and lead if this group is to be successful.

Obviously, we are excited about the new dual meet format with this team. However, we all know a lot can happen between November and February. It should be an exciting season for the Blue Jays and their fans.

Doyle Hancock .	11		215 lbs.
William Duppler	11	30-8	Hvy.

Outlook for upcoming season...

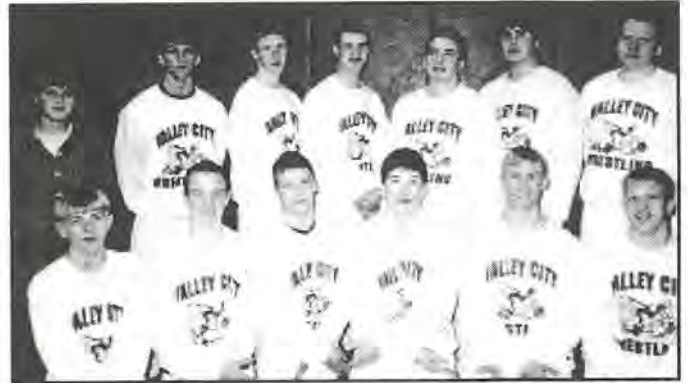

We have a number of returning starters back this year so we could have a decent team if they fill in the right weights. We did not have a lot of kids out for wrestling last year so we will not have a lot of depth. Filling all 14 weights will also be tough to do and if we have injuries during the season it could really hurt us.

Our top returning wrestler is senior Phil Riedman, State Champion last year at 140 pounds. Phil wrestled a lot of freestyle this summer and could be at either 145 or 152 lbs. this year.

Eric Kiefert at 125 lbs., Chad Larson at 135 lbs. and William Duppler at Hwt. all placed third last year. Eric is a senior and will probably move up to 130 lbs. Chad, a senior, is expected to move up to 140 this year. Duppler is a junior.

Travis Shape, junior, 4th at 130 lbs., is the other returning place winner. He will probably be at 135 this year.

Other returning starters include sophomore Charlie Senne at 103 or 112 lbs., and freshman Evan Knodle at 125 or 130 lbs., both were state qualifiers last year. Junior Jessen Alexander returns at 171 lbs. and Junior Doyle Hancock returns at 215 lbs. Freshman Aaron Didier has also seen some varsity action and could possible wrestle at 119 or 125 lbs. Preston Young was a starter two years ago and missed last year with an injury. He is a senior and is expected back at 160 lbs.

Outlook for upcoming season...

I feel the Huskies will truly miss seniors Chad Tischer (4th place at 215 lbs.) and Jay Lies (1st at 171 lbs. and Triple Crown Winner in ND) next season, but I am extremely excited about the athletes we return. Dan Spellerberg (6th at 145 lbs.), Robby Anderson (3rd at 152 lbs.) and Danny Meyer (6th at 140 lbs.) are going to be impact wrestlers for us right away. We have three or four other wrestlers that will certainly help make our team a respectable tournament team. We will struggle in duals because of inexperience in the lower weights, but our middle and upper weights should be quite respectable. We have the ability to have a season in 1999-00 that would be very comparable to the 1998-99 season. We will have to be patient with the team and make it our goal to peak at the state tournament just as we did in 1999.

Outlook for upcoming season...

West Fargo is looking to improve on its region and state places. We lost several key seniors, including state champ Jon Hanson, and state runner-up Mike Gorde. However, we have a very strong program that should include approximately 40 wrestlers.

We will be without a senior on the team and will look to two-time state placer Mark Gorde for leadership. Obviously without a senior we will be very young, and need to get our experience on the mat.

We may be lacking in experience but I have a group of kids who are willing to work and understand what it takes to win.

It should be an interesting season and I look for a great region and an interesting state tournament.

Seven Keys to Maintaining a Healthy Weight

By JON GUNS

1. Don't Rely on Magic

No matter how much we would like it to be true, there is no magic way to achieve a healthy body weight. Many of the "magic" approaches – pills, powders and potions – can lead to significant weight loss for a short period. But the vast majority of people who lose weight this way lose respect for conditioning and hard work. They become lazy relying on the quick fix and have lots of trouble throughout wrestling season maintaining a healthy weight. It is what you do from now on and the rest of the season that will determine your success at maintaining a healthy weight.

2. I did it before I can do it again

Some believe that because you lost that amount of weight the year before (or your friend did) you think you can again. Remember that you as a high school or even a college wrestler are still growing. Naturally by working out you are putting on muscle and muscle weighs more than fat. As you grow you will naturally weigh more. Ask your self is it worth sacrificing muscle for weight, because that is what you are doing. A wrestler needs as much muscle as possible, don't sacrifice it.

3. Body Fat Check

Before you start your season get your body fat checked. The average body fat of young men is ~ 10% or less and the state requires that high school wrestlers do not cut their weight below the 7% limit. Do the simple math, if you have 12% body fat the most you can lose is 5% of your weight. If you weigh 150 lbs. at 12% body fat this would suggest you lose only 7½ lbs. of body fat. While high schools in North Dakota don't take into consideration for the loss of water weight that colleges have. Colleges at the beginning of the season have each wrestler undergo a weight assessment using body weight, body composition and specific gravity of urine to determine weight at which the wrestler can compete, which consists of his lean body weight plus five percent. There will be no weight allowance ever. Colleges don't leave it up to the individuals to decide how low they can go.

4. Set Realistic Weight Goals

Achieving and maintaining a healthy weight is important for good health. But a healthy weight isn't necessarily the one that's suggested by a height/weight chart. Your healthy weight is what you weigh when you've empowered yourself to take care of your body through adequate activity and sensible eating. This means that you must make some sacrifices to get where you want to be. I suggest cutting out extra sweets, eliminating soda beverages (pop), and adding an extra workout in your schedule (like a morning run a couple times a week). This will increase your metabolism and you will naturally burn more calories.

5. Have Fun

The key to burning fat is burning calories. The only way to significantly increase your body's caloric expenditure is to increase your level of activity. Unfortunately we've forgotten what most children know that exercise is fun! We have forgotten that exercise is an act of caring and self-respect, not work or punishment. Regular exercise is one of the few proven predictors of successful weight maintenance. Even more important, regular activity significantly reduces a long list of health risks. Coaches I ask you to break some practices up and remind wrestlers to have fun or it will make for a long season.

6. Get Stronger

I can't say it enough. Two wrestlers with the same ability step on to the mat and the one who gets his hand raised the most often is the stronger. Research has shown that resistance training – whether with weights, machines, elastic bands, even in water – does more than help with weight control. It makes you a more complete wrestler.

7. Be Patient and Persistent

Being patient and persistent doesn't mean waiting for something to happen that will get you to a healthy body weight. It means planning and choosing attitudes that demonstrate self-acceptance and self-care. It takes practice. Most experts recommend that you keep some kind of record of your exercise, eating, and self-care habits. They don't have to be detailed or complicated. Just take a few minutes each day to note what activities you did to take care of yourself. Don't rush, 1 to 1½ lbs. a week weight loss is suggested by health officials. So start today, remember to take small steps. That's how most things happen...in real life.

No-names No. 1

By SCOOTER PURSLEY
Bismarck Tribune

Ashley-Wishek fans could thank their lucky stars that the team had five wrestlers going for championships Saturday night at the State Wrestling Tournament.

Otherwise it might have been a pretty boring night at the Bismarck Civic Center after their favorite sons locked up a second straight state championship earlier in the afternoon.

The team steamrolled to 173 points, well ahead of the second-place New Salem's 12.

The wrestling Goebel brothers, 112-pounder Jesse and 119-pounder Jerome, and 160-pounder Josh Hoffman, all won championships in front of 7,000 people.

Hoffman, a No. 4 seed, became the lowest-seeded wrestler in the tournament to win a title.

"Seeding ain't anything," Hoffman said. "That's why you wrestle I just blocked that out and told myself I'm the best wrestler here."

That was a special moment for coach Perry Turner, as well. "To be a runner-up twice and finally succeed, I was very happy for him. He's a great kid," Turner said.

Ashley-Wishek's margin of victory was the largest since 1978. The 173 points was the most since 1981. New Salem actually had as many champion (three) as Ashley-Wishek, but not the depth. And Ashley-Wishek's depth began at the top.

Jerome had been to two title matches, but never wore a crown before Saturday when he pinned Brent Mrnak of Beach in 1:06.

How does it feel.

"I don't know yet," said Goebel, who finished the season 34-0. "I don't think it would come that fast."

Goebel's winning move? "We call it the cow catcher at hoe," Goebel said.

The win came moments after his twin brother Jesse recorded his record 30th pin, sticking David Skoglund of Beach in 4:50. He finished the season 32-0.

"It's better than last year because of the record," Jesse said.

Jesse's thoughts, however, were with his brother. "I want it for him mor than me," he said, moments before Jerome's win.

Eleven Ashley-Wishek wrestlers qualified for state and eight placed in the top seven.

In addition to champions and runners-up Shane Eskelson at 140 and Travis Gleasman at 130, there was Ryan Wolf, who was seventh at 125 pounds, Darrik Nitschke, who was third at 135, and Dustn Thurn, who was third at 152.

"The kids in the wrestleback rounds took the pressure off the guys tonight," Turner said. "That made it easier. It was a tremendous effort.

It was the progression through the wrestlebacks that gave the team an insurmountable lead going into the finals.

Turner was able to relax and reflect during the championship matches.

"It's kind of like a situation with a child . . ." Turner said of Ashley-Wishek's title. "You love them dearly, but they're both special."

NOT SO FAST: It was reported Saturday that Danny Henderson of Hettinger broke Mark Pazdernik's pin record at 119 pounds. He, in fact, tied the mark of 25.

AWARDS: Hillsboro's Chris Mueller was named Class B Mr. Wrestler and New Town's Terry Mathson was named Coach of the Year.

Outlook for upcoming season...

Low numbers, young athletes and the graduation of some tough wrestlers has made the Enderlin wrestling team spend the past couple of years rebuilding. Filling 9 of the 14 weight classes the Eagle wrestlers ended their dual meet season with a record of 0-8. However, three wrestlers, Ben Schmitz, Nick Swanson, and Brandon Anderson competed in the 1999 state tournament and will be returning on this year's roster.

The outlook for the upcoming season is encouraging. The wrestlers have one more year of experience, maturity and several of the Enderlin wrestlers will be returning to their last years weight classes. A push to stay involved in the sport and work out during the summer has been made to the athletes in Enderlin. Several of the wrestlers took advantage of this opportunity and should experience the benefits of their hard work.

Outlook for upcoming season...

The Viking wrestling program only lost one senior from last year's squad. Baron Blanchard will be greatly missed. The team will be young. Returning will be five 10th graders, ten 9th graders and around 15 junior high wrestlers. The dual season will depend on how the Vikings can fill the weight classes. "If they all stay at the same weight, like last year we had six 103 pounders, we may have some tough duals. Tournament wise the Vikings should be able to hold their own. The individuals have come a long way and are up for the challenge. Some individuals who have seen a lot of mat time are: Tyler Bauman, qualified for state last year as an 8th grader. Logan Lunde, who had 25 takedown and 16 near falls in only 10 varsity matches. Chris Kowalski, who won 20 matches last year at 103 and two 5th in the region. Luke Swenson Shea Magstad, Darrin Olsgaard, Damion Frederickson, T.J. Roster, Lionel Garcia, Ryan McGinnis, Dana Otterson, a couple of hopefuls Dan Wessels and Kyle Hamry, all have had good mat time. The Vikings have a well-rounded schedule. They will be tested at every event. "As long as the injury bug doesn't hit and they spread out in weight, we will have a fun season."

Outlook for upcoming season...

The Lobos 1999-2000 outlook has these returning state participants and depending on how the weights of other returning letterman spread out to try and fill as many weight classes as possible. Seniors Doug Muske and Eric Podell bring back the most experience. Doug was a state participant the past two years at Hwt. and returns for what should be an exciting senior season. Eric has had a tougher time but should break out this season. Other notable seniors, Brock Sandness (out most of season with mono), Dustin Olson (out most of season with a muscle tear in the abdomen), 3rd year wrestler Marc Exner, 2nd year wrestler Blake Bockwoldt and Jeremy Koval could have some impact on the upcoming year. Underclassmen Todd Porter and Kelly Steffes and state participants Dustin Willey and Joe Larson will also add some excitement to the Lobo lineup. New comers to the lineup could see freshman Joe Hebl and eighth grader Travis Peterson seeing some varsity time. The Lobos will be young to start but should mature as the season progresses and the weights start to spread out and weight classes get filled.

20 Suggestions to Reduce Fat
To achieve ideal wrestling weight with out starvation or dehydration

1. Eat more servings of grains, vegetables, fruits, and dried peas, beans, and lentils.
2. Eat lean meat, fish, poultry, and egg whites.
3. Broil or braise food in water, fruit juice or stock instead of frying.
4. Drink more water.
5. Read ingredients. Buy foods prepared with no added fats or oils.
6. Trim visible fat from meats and poultry before cooking.
7. Choose foods with the lowest fat per serving.
8. Dress salads with seasoned rice vinegar or balsamic vinegar.
9. Make your own tortilla chips, and use fresh salsa.
10. For dessert, try frozen fruit ices, juice bars, fruit sorbet, non-fat yogurt.
11. Baked potato topped off with salsa, fat-free dressing, or non-fat yogurt.
12. Use butter powder in place of butter or margarine on vegetables.
13. Use cooking methods that drain fat away from the food.
14. Stock up on a variety of non-fat snacks.
15. Maintain variety in your diet.
16. Skim off fat from soups and stew.
17. Use nonfat or low-fat dairy products.
18. Ask for salad dressing on the side.
19. Meatless main dishes 2-3 times a week.
20. Reducing animal foods; meat, poultry, fish, eggs and dairy products.

Enhanced glycogen stores can be achieved by eating a high carbohydrate meal the night before and 4-6 hours before a match to provide maximum endurance.

Outlook for upcoming season...

We're excited about next season. We have five state place winners returning and 8 kids back with 20 or more wins this season. If we don't "bunch up" too much we feel we could shoot for top 5 in the state next year. Our light and middle weight should be our strong areas. Our two seniors next year will be important to us. Josh Kramer and Wade Huber need to have good years along with some good leadership.

Outlook for upcoming season...

The Broncos return a ton of experience from last year's team. Senior leadership will be important from Nathan Carlson, Austin Reinke and Jesse Tooley to lead the younger wrestlers up the ladder to success. Depending on how the weight classes fill out Lisbon could push for a top 3 finish in the Region and a top 10 finishing at State. If Lisbon can fill all weight classes expect the Broncos to do well in dual competition. A solid Bronco team will beat the teams with just a few great wrestlers.

Outlook for upcoming season...

This year's version of the Imperial Wrestling team will be full of young quality wrestlers. With only one senior and no juniors, this team is an extension of last years young guns, led by senior Charles Weigel.

As a coach in a small school, I've been through this before and the fun is in the building. This team is full of top quality young wrestlers with many years of youth wrestling experience and now varsity high school experience. Including two state kids champions and national AAU All-Americans, two being National AAU Champions.

As in 1998-99, this year will be a learning experience and hopefully we will see success along the way. We like to think of it as young and fun!

Adam Dahlstrom	10	30-9	160 lbs.
Nate Person	11	23-8	152 lbs.
Jeremy Moore	10	23-16	Hvy

Outlook for upcoming season...

Although the three seniors will be hard to replace, the Oakes Tornadoes will have a strong nucleus coming back next year with seven returning state placers. Junior state champion Tom Iverson will provide leadership for the team next year. Four-time state placer and former state champion Collin Kelly will also provide great leadership. Other returning placers are Nate Person-5th, Joel Erickson-6th, Curt Savey-7th, Jeremy Moore-7th and Adam Dahlstrom-8th. Oakes has been pretty lucky with their numbers and should fill a whole team next year. However, most of the more experienced wrestlers will be stacked up in the 145-160 lb. range. As Ashley-Wishek loses many seniors to graduation, Oakes looks to try taking over the reigns as Region I champions. With this team, barring any major accidents, Oakes looks confident in their chances of placing at the state tourney again.

End of Season Training Tips

By TERRY & TROY STEINER

It starts with a dream but without hard work and preparation, it also may end with a dream. Hold onto your dreams, but also get out there and do something about them.

Now that you have built a great base of conditioning through the early and mid parts of your season, it is time to start gearing everything for the end of the season. This is a time in which workouts should be designed to bring out your highest level of intensity. Conditioning and endurance is already with you at this point so now you have to work on sharpness and explosion.

Skill Development: Always try to correct your lesser strengths (I do not like to think of it as weaknesses) and continue to build on your strengths. In wrestling practices when you are drilling and reviewing your technique, make sure that you are drilling everything with a lot of explosion and preciseness. Trying to emulate a match as close as possible. Spend 20-30 minutes drilling your technique, in the areas that you have found yourself in during matches thus far in the season. Because chances are you will find yourselves in the same situations and you have to be able to put points up on the scoreboard. After you are thoroughly warmed up, wrestle shorter periods. Because they are shorter, the intensity needs to pick up. The periods of match length are good, but even go 1 minute periods and 30 second periods where you must score. You can also put yourself in different situations in which you are losing by 1, 2, 3, or 4 points with 30 sec. @ndash; 1 min. remaining. Then put your self ahead by 1, 2, 3, or 4 points and hold good position. Score when a situation presents itself but do not give your opponent anything to work with.

Conditioning: You already have a good aerobic conditioning base built up, now it is time to work on your anaerobic conditioning. This will be done by short intense bursts at your highest intensity. Wrestling live situations can do it as I have stated above and also by running sprints. Running 440, 220, 100 and 50's can do wonders. Make sure and give yourself some rest in-between each sprint about the same amount of time it took you to run the sprint.

Strength Training: It is crucial to keep your strength now towards to end of the season. Try to lift heavy weights with 6-8 repetitions 1-2 times a week and a circuit type of lift with lighter weights and 10-15 repetitions 1 times a week. This is something you will have to arrange around your competition schedule. Make sure to give yourself 36 hours to recover from your lifts before your competition, but do not neglect this area of your training.

Nutrition and Rest: This could be the most important aspect for peaking at the right time. You should be giving your body nutritious meals at least 3-4 times a day. Make sure to spread your calories out throughout the day. Do not starve your bodies of calories because you must feed your muscles for energy and recovery. Giving your muscles and body adequate rest is very important. If they are not properly rested, they will not perform at optimum levels. You should feel refreshed and ready to explode into your workouts. If you do not feel right, chances are your body needs more nutrients or rest. Listen to your body.

Mental Skills Training: Affirmations are little notes to yourself telling you exactly what you want to happen. Write your affirmations in the present tense. Your mind doesn't know what is true or false. It just takes in information like a computer. So, if you tell it things you want to happen you will move in that direction. Example:

My double leg is explosive!

I always finish my single leg perfect!

I always perform my best in matches!

I am the 1999 State Champion at 145 pounds.

Look at your affirmations a few times a day and say them to yourself. You will see results, just by convincing your mind what you want to happen.

If you have any questions on peaking for the end of the season e-mail us at mail@steinerwrestlinng.com or call us at 608-271-0835 or 608-236-9498 and we will try and help. Good Luck and get after it.

Quantity or Quality, that is the Question

by Bert Gums

National Wrestling Rules that expanded the number of weight classes from 12 to 14 didn't keep states like North Dakota in mind. Dwindling rural population and school enrollments are greatly affecting wrestling viability in our small communities. Some school administrations/boards have dropped their wrestling program because they could no longer field a full team. (Mostly important in duels) It is unlikely that more than 10 teams in North Dakota class "B" wrestling will be able to field a full team. Duel team championships and a possible multiple team champion is a mistake in my opinion. It most certainly will favor larger enrollment schools and not place a premium on quality as championships that are based on a point system crowning individual state champs, runner-ups and consolation matches. In class "B" wrestling, when the old format is used, a small school with five or six quality wrestlers could win a state championship. I believe that's how it should be. Rewarding larger enrollment schools with state championships for forfeits is a sham if not a shame. I can visualize a duel championship won by a wrestler with a 2-20 record by virtue of a forfeit, winning a state championship for his school. If that wouldn't make my food regurgitate, nothing else could. If state championships aren't for rewarding excellence then what are they? The idea of having two state championships is good in theory only. If numbers should determine a state championship then why not allow any school to enter as many participants in each weight class as they want to. This echo may be redundant but simple logic should prevail and convince wrestling purists why duel championships shouldn't crown a state champion. I believe it will be detrimental to wrestling and take away from the idea of rewarding quality & excellence. It is well-known fact that more than 70% of the teams cannot field a competitive duel team because of small enrollments.

If the aforementioned hypothetical don't occur then enters scenario number two. During the dominant years of Watford City, Velva, Lisbon, Napoleon and Carrington chances are most years they would have won both championships. (One championship is enough) I strongly believe the idea of duel championships is flawed & and not necessary for the state of North Dakota. In class "A" there are only 20 teams. It becomes evident that wrestling state consolation matches down to seven & eight places already makes the state championship similar to a duel format championship. This allows nearly half of the wrestlers in the state to place. In my view two championships per division cheapens wrestling. If you're looking at two championships as good, why not three or four like in boxing, so you could have a championship for everybody

In the long run, if I am proved wrong, it will make me glad, after all, wrestling is for development for our kids. If the end result doesn't slight the sports integrity and allows the smaller school to compete then I will have been proven wrong. I hope that I'm not right again!

It has been many years since the overall quality of wrestling in North Dakota has been at this mediocre level, not just through my eyes but also how poorly we have done against out of state competition. I'd hate to think we are awarding two championships of inferior quality.

In conclusion and summary, administrators/boards need to know or be educated that it is important for schools to have wrestling programs, even if they have nine or 10 wrestlers. In track & field it has long been recognized that quality supercedes numbers. Some track teams may have good relay teams and no hurdlers, shot putters or high jumpers. Some track teams may have sprinters where one individual may win both the 100 & 200-meter sprints. In track & field, programs are not eliminated because they don't have participants in all events. Wrestling should be viewed similarly as a viable and worthwhile sport, even if not all the weight classes are filled.

Last but not least, I am for anything that can make North Dakota wrestling flourish, I'm especially worried about wrestling in the small enrollment schools because once it's gone it's gone forever. Many fans would be surprised how much enrollments have dropped in most rural communities. Many schools, according to the NDHSAA booklet have less than 70 boys in high school. These schools need a very high percentage of participation to field both basketball & wrestling teams. It takes a relentless effort to field a team and be competitive against larger schools. Especially, in duel competition where different size individuals are required. This makes one realize the room for error is small and getting smaller every year. I would like to commend everyone that is making a difference for wrestling. It is my earnest wish throughout North Dakota from Walhalla to Bowman and from Wahpeton to Williston that wrestling will remain with us. Somewhere in the future let it be said, that we did what we could and that quality wasn't sold-out for quantity...

Outlook for upcoming season...

This year should be quite interesting, since there will be a dual team state championship on the line. The cardinals didn't field a full team all year last year. It was hard to get anything going with all of the gaps in our line up. If we can get everybody at the right weights, to field a full team from the start of the season to the end, we should be one of the top teams in our region. There are 7 returning state qualifiers back this year. One of the state qualifiers is Josh Harildstad who finished 4th. The team is hoping to improve from its 16th state place with an encore of 9 seniors.

We have a very challenging schedule this year. We wrestle in some tough Class B tournaments (Carrington, Linton, Lisbon, New Salem, and Harvey) this year. We are hosting a dual tournament this year, which will field several tough teams from around the state. The East-West tournament (mini-state) in New Salem is always a good tester for state. In addition to that we have two duals and tournaments with Class A schools.

Outlook for upcoming season...

The 1999-2000 season outlook is very bright for Cavalier High School with 15 returning letter winners competing for varsity positions. Most of the team also participates in football and baseball so the boys are seldom idle. This certainly makes it easier to prepare for the wrestling season when a lot of your team is competing in other sports.

We have set up another tough schedule for 1999-2000 with two dual tournaments in Grand Forks. We compete in these multiple tournaments each season to give the team an opportunity to wrestle excellent competition. Most of the time we are able to pick up 6-7 duals in two-day tournament with very few forfeits. I feel that if the kids work hard over the summer months and during the football season, we will be ready for another great season of wrestling next December.

Outlook for upcoming season...

The upcoming season here at Four Winds looks more promising than ever. I have four wrestlers returning this year from previous years, and possibly up to eight new students coming on board. Since starting here two year ago, I have been trying to get more students out for wrestling, and it looks like there might be quite a few interested this year.

From last year, we will have Mark and Monte Fassett returning. In addition, we will also have Joe Demarce and Billy Longie returning, Joe from last year and Billy from the year previously.

Our new recruits should also be exciting to watch. Terry Herman, Kermit Demarce, Dulin Longie, Marshall Longie and Maza Oldrock should give us some wrestlers in the lower weight classes, something we haven't had since I have been here. Manuel Littlewind should compete at the 171-weight class and quite possibly Tom Demarce as our very first 275-pounder.

All in all, I hope to have a better season than the two previous, and to keep improving both physically and mentally.

Head Coach, Rob McIvor and State Qualifier 1998-99, Rusty Hunt.

Jason Toso	10	145 lbs.
Brian Walsh	10	152 lbs.

Outlook for upcoming season...

We at Harvey High School are looking forward to next years wrestling season! The Hornets will have a good bunch of wrestlers back next year.

We will have ten starters back and some good young guys to fill in . The main concern, as is every year, to keep from bunching up in weight classes.

Hopefully we will be able to fill all weight classes.

I am looking for region 2 to be well-balanced next year. Hillsboro, Carrington and Walhalla will have excellent teams as always. Cavalier, Central Cass and Larimore have some good individuals returning also and will be figured in the mix.

Brandon Lemer, 215 lb. State Champ, Greco Champ, Freestyle Champ.

Matt Weinmann, 189 lb. took fourth place at state.

Dakota Steedsman, 140 lb. took third place at state.

Hillsboro Burros

Brian Sorum	11	23-16	275 lbs.
Eric Foss	12	1-4	152 lbs.
Dain Giradat	12	4-5	140 lbs.

Outlook for upcoming season...

The Burros are cautiously optimistic about the 1999-2000 season. We have a tremendous amount of experience with 12 starters and 16 lettermen returning. Depth will be the key. 10 starters have wrestled in the state tourney.

This will be the 1st season since 1989-90 that the Burros will start more than 3 seniors. The seniors will need to provide the leadership necessary for this team to finish high in the final teamstandings for the year 2000.

Outlook for upcoming season...

The upcoming season looks promising for the Polar Bears as they return a solid core group of upper classmen to the mat. Seven seniors and four juniors will vie for varsity positions and the competition for those spots will be intense at several weights.

Larimore lost only two wrestlers to graduation so experience will definitely help the team. Two of the returning seniors will come back with state tournament experience. Greg Fillmore (24-11) will compete at 152 or 160 lbs. And Josh Nesdahl (21-7) should weigh in at 140 lbs. Both wrestlers bring a great work ethic and excellent attitude into the practice room. Senior twin brothers, Brad and Brent Rekkedal, have steadily improved and will be very solid at 189-215 pounds. Gabe Robles, who is a very smooth and unpredictable wrestler, is looking to return to the state tournament and senior Aaron Dahlen will make the move from 215 pounds up to 275 pounds. Justin Feickert, and extremely athletic and versatile football players, will make his presence felt at 171 or 189 pounds.

Junior twin brothers, Mike and Matt Gensrich will compete in the 140-pound range. Mike also returns with state tourney experience. Ben Meland at 145 pounds and Shayde Holte at 119 pounds round out the returning juniors. All four will be counted on to produce wins and provide leadership.

Freshmen Aaron Robles (16-8), 7th in state as an eighth grader, and Grant Miller, 125 pounds, will add fire power to the lower weights.

Co-coaches, Jim Sleeper and Mike Voglewede, will begin their third season of coaching together at Larimore. "This will be one of the most well rounded teams I've coached," says Jim. "These kids work hard and barring injuries, should do well this season." The team, composed of a co-op between the two towns of Larimore and Northwood, has a lot of potential. "The work ethic and the attitude that the wrestlers have is outstanding." Comments Mike Voglewede. "These guys love the competition, work hard in practice and have profited by wrestling with the big boys." The Larimore team has two Class A tournaments on their agenda, the Grand Forks Multiple and the Valley City Tourney. They also regularly see area powers from Minnesota and North Dakota.

Will they have enough to extend their regular season into the state tournament? "We sent five weights to state last year and barely missed on two more," says Sleeper. "We'll see who steps it up and who wants it the most. We definitely have some wrestlers that could finish high in the state tourney."

Mayville's wrestling program is young and rebuilding from the bottom up. Young coach Marty Amb's commitment to the program is crucial to keep strong competition in Region 2. The Region 2 powers, Hillsboro and Carrington look to run away with the Region. The dual season and dual state tourney should be quite exciting this year.

Ex-Fargo Wrestler One of the Nations Best Coaches

By JON GUMS

Hopefully, most of you have not forgotten this North Dakota wrestler.

Listen to these stats and think to yourself who this might be, then read about this man. In my opinion, he will soon be one of North Dakota's Hall of Fame wrestlers/coaches.

He was a three-time finalist and two time North Dakota state champion. He was an 11 time All-American while at Fargo South High School and NDSU. He made the Greco Roman Olympic Cut Finals in 1980 and 1984. In 1984, he was a shoe in to be the Olympic participant. He was No. 1 on the ladder before a knee injury left him short of his long time dream. He has most recently coached two high school teams that were ranked in the top 10 in the Nation 8th in 1998 and 7th in 1999 for Unitah High School in Vernal Utah. He also has started a tournament that brings in schools from all across the upper Midwest. In the USA Wrestling Magazine it was ranked as one of the top 20 toughest wrestling tournaments in the nation.

This great wrestler and coach is Greg Stensgard. Greg moved to Vernal, Utah four years ago after assisting Bucky Maughan at NDSU the twelve years previous.

Over the last four years in Vernal, Utah Greg's teams have placed 3rd in 1996, 2nd in 1997, and back to back State Championships in 1998 and 1999. Topping off his great 1999-wrestling season Greg was named the Utah Coach of the Year, for all classes 2A-5A.

Greg has been married for two years to his wife Stephanie, and has two daughters Stevie and Summer. I wish him the best and hope to see him soon in the North Dakota Hall of Fame with all the other great Wrestlers and Coaches.

Outlook for upcoming season...

If we can fill some open weights from 125 to 140 lbs. We could be a decent dual meet team. We have a couple of returning state placers and hope to qualify a few more to improve on our state placement in 1999. Nick Graf and Al Packulak will be counted on to lead the lakers in 1999-2000.

Mark Gathman, Bucky Anderson and Terry Stadick will coach a team with a wide range of experience levels from beginners to 4-years of experience. In wrestling success is earned the old fashion way-hard work.

Dan Bauch	12	6-18	160 lbs.

Outlook for upcoming season...

We will be inexperienced but should have some strong individuals. Eric Splichal had a strong eighth grade year and was one match away from placing at the State meet. We look for good things to happen for him in future years. Eric Wilson was a newcomer last year and showed a lot of potential before a season ending injury. We look for him to come back strong this year. TJ Rader was a transfer from Mandan that should make the starting lineup and contribute a great deal next year. Dan Bauch will be a senior and his hard work ethic should result in a great senior year. Dan was plagued by minor injuries all season but should be strong and healthy for us this year.

Outlook for upcoming season...

The 1999-00 season will be a rebuilding year for Bishop Ryan wrestling. The Lions lost seven seniors to graduation including five state place winners. They will be looking for leadership from two returning seniors; Ryan Brunner and Josh Askvig. Brunner will be returning after sitting out last season with a back injury. He placed third at the state meet as a sophomore in 1998. Askvig turned in an outstanding season in 1999 finishing with a region championship and a 35-4 record. Lance Meyer, Brian Heck, Tyler Ruelle, and Jason Trainer all placed fifth at the Region III tournament in 1999. Their performance will determine the team's success in the upcoming season. Mike Wilson, Ryan Burchill, Adam Jones, Lee Barnett, Kevin Flammang, Kris Cowles, Jordan Hassler, Marshall Knaup and Levi Haugen are also expected to play important roles this season.

Outlook for upcoming season...

We return five state qualifiers, Chad Mathson-2nd, Cameron Wolding-5th, Mike Deserly-5th, Tanner Sandstrom-6th and Josh Uran. Those guys will give us a good base for duals, as we should fill most weight classes. Having lost seven seniors puts a lot on the guys new to the lineup, but several have had good JV seasons and may blend in well. We are in the top five of returning state points so we're looking to improve on our 7th place finish last year. The Region 3 team race looks like Kenmare and Velva returning the most points, with Rugby, New Town and Des Lacs close behind. I would expect those four teams to battle it out.

Outlook for upcoming season...

Could be a fun season, probably won't have a full team, but have some good individuals. Returning state place winners Doug Zinke-6th at 145 lbs. (Doug has also qualified for the USA Cadet National and Jr. Nationals) and Mike Tomlinson-6th at 160 lbs. With a few others close to qualifying, Jade Gores at 152 lbs., Chad Anderson at 189 lbs., Scott McDougall at 215 lbs., and Heavyweight, Scott Gailfus. Wrestlers we need help from are Ryder Clouse at 103, Zach Cahill at 135. Wrestlers that could break into the lineup are Greg Hendrickson, Lee Havig, Peter ViVier, Jace Manning and Billy Karnopp. Looking to get top five in Region, and top fifteen in State. Really the next two years could be fun.

Shaun Burkhartsmeier	12	32-13	160 or 171 lbs.

Outlook for upcoming season...

The Rugby Panthers return nine lettermen for the 1999-2000 season. Five of the lettermen will have state tournament experience. David Folden, Wade Senger, Brian Thompson, Garret Koble, and Shaun Burkhartsmeier. Three other wrestlers saw extensive varsity action last year and will be counted on to show improvement this year and they are Josh Odden, Evan St. Michel, and Kyle Leier. James Brossart saw part-time duty on the varsity last year. The upper weights look to be a concern for the Panthers as they head into the 2000 season as there are not any boys currently in the program to wrestle at 189, 215, and 275 lbs. The Panthers hope to be competitive in tournaments with some strong individuals performances and will really have to battle hard to stay in their dual meets.

Outlook for upcoming season...

Things look good in Aggie land with 11 starters back, six of which were at state. After two seasons of building and gaining experience, while losing only four seniors in that time, and with four seniors and nine juniors and some good young guns the Aggies look to make some noise this year.

The Aggies will be lead by Jayd Kittelson who placed second the last two years at 171 lbs. And 189 lbs. The only thing that concerns the Aggies is that Jayd needs to stay healthy at the end of the year, being injured three of the six years he's been to state. Cody Chilson placed 6th last year after two season with 30 plus wins, will be looking for more. Devin Morey who placed 8th for the Aggies was the surprise of the team not being seeded but yet came through at the state meet.

Juniors Cody Kittelson and Craig Thingvold look to do something this up coming year after disappointing health problems. Cody has yet to finish a season due to a shoulder problem, which was operated on last year and is looking good. Craig missed most of last season with pneumonia, but came back to wrestle at regionals and made it back to state. The Aggies will be able to fill in the spots to graduation with some experience with JV wrestlers that wrestled up to 18 varsity matches.

1999 AdvoCare Cadet National Wrestling Championships

By BLAIR KELLEY

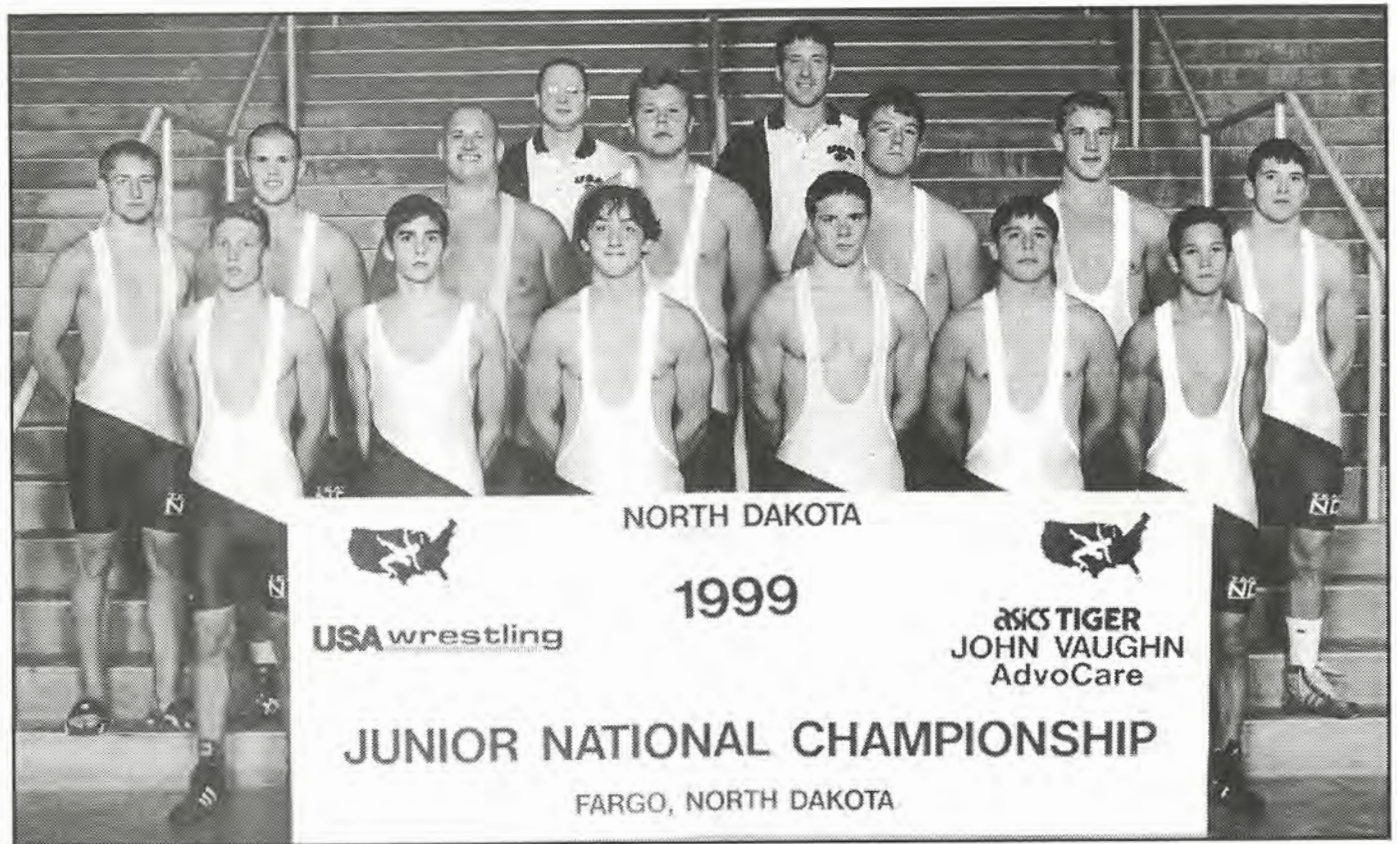

For the fourth year in a row the AdvoCare Cadet Nationals were held alongside the Asics/Vaughn Junior Nationals. Once again, the site of the tournament was the Fargodome.

This year the Cadet Nationals hosted over 1500 competitors from 50 states. This tournament showcases the best 15-16-year-olds in the nation!

North Dakota took close to twenty individuals to the tournament this year, one of our highest yet!

In Greco-Roman competition, Elliot Piper of Bismarck took home the bronze medal with a stellar performance in a stacked 182½ weight class (he defeated Coalt Hamilton of Utah 4-0). Other wrestlers from North Dakota that were extremely close to placing were: Alan Roness of Williston at 132 lbs.(4-2) and Tony Soderberg of Minot at 143 lbs.(4-2).

In the Freestyle Competition, North Dakota had one placer in Eric Sabot of Bismarck. Eric pinned Billy Mcleod of Great Falls, Mont., for 7th place. Mcleod was a double placer. Congratulations to our Cadet All-Americans!

1999 Asics/Vaughn Junior National Championships

By BLAIR KELLEY

The 29th annual Junior National Championships were held at the Fargodome on the campus of North Dakota State University. The tournament had over 1700 competitors, helping to set a record for the number of participants. The Junior Nationals hosts the best 17-18-year-olds in the nation. Many of the wrestlers who compete in this tournament have gone on to be successful at higher levels of wrestling.

North Dakota took around 20 wrestlers to the tournament this year. Even though we had good numbers, we had only one All-American. Returning Greco-Roman National Champion, Zach Thumb was upset in his pool final. He fought his way back to an impressive 3rd place finish. Zach also placed in the Freestyle competition taking 7th in a very deep field of Hwts. North Dakota had a few juniors who were one match away from placing in Greco. Randy Gust of Grand Forks lost a tough overtime battle to get into the placing matches. He was 4-2. Phil Riedman of Valley City also went 4-2.

Junior/Cadet Training Camp

The Junior/Cadet Training Camp is held at Bismarck High School every summer two weeks prior to the tournament. This year was the first year that the junior and cadets were combined. The turnout was great and the response the coaches received from the wrestlers was excellent.

Turnout for the size of the state of North Dakota is fair at most. With the tournament being held in Fargo, our turnout should be huge. Our middle school and high school coaches need to encourage their athletes to participate in this camp and the tournament. It shows the athlete what it takes to be a champion. The athletes have a chance to work with some of the finest coaches in North Dakota, as well as, competing every day against other top-notch wrestlers. This is a recipe for success!

If you would like to get involved in this camp, attend freestyle and Greco tournaments. Information is handed out at all of these. If you are not a freestyle/Greco wrestler, get out and try something new. If you have any questions, you can call, Scott Knowlen @ 255-6474, Blair Kelley @ 221-9238, Keenan Spiess @ 298-8951 or Jeff Schumacher @ 221-3570.

Junior Duals

Once again, the Junior Dual Team made the long trek to Edmond, Okla., for the 8th annual Junior National Duals. The Junior Duals is a grueling 4-day event in which wrestlers can compete in as many as 17 matches! This year the Junior Dual Team took 8th place in the national in Greco-Roman but did not place in Freestyle.

Team members were: Joey Neijum, Charley Senne, Shane Saylor, John Motta, Todd Haber, Jason Manning, Casey Becker, Tony Soderberg, Phil Reidman, Nathan Schmitz, Josh Saylor, Clint Meadows, Randy Gust, Jeff Flammag, Zach Thumb and Tony Fugelberg. Coaches are: Keenan Spiess and Blair Kelly

Outlook for upcoming season...

This season introduces many new faces to the Bulldog program, however, with one returning state placer (Joe Miller-8th) and two seniors (Cooper Silha & Neal Egan) returning to the team provides much needed leadership. The team has also lost long time veteran coach Terry Mrnak, with coaches Doug McGee and Ryan Moser sharing the coaching duties this season. The team also has the luxury of returning nine seasoned veterans to the team. As an added bonus the inexperienced wrestlers new to the program are showing desire, working hard in the pre-season to be prepared for the 1999-2000 season. By the end of the season, the Bulldogs should push for a spot in the top three in Region IV. Filling the weight classes is a key to the season. Spreading out several wrestlers with talent, log jammed in the middleweights, will be a key factor for the season. The appropriate blend of greenness with leadership could provide the Bulldogs with an exciting season.

Basic Ankle Strapping

1-The athlete's skin has been prepared in the usual manner and a layer of J-WRAP® Pretaping Underwrap has been applied. 1½" width tape will be used, although as the taper becomes more proficient, 2" may be used on individuals with larger ankles. The athlete is positioned comfortably on the table, the leg extended, the foot in neutral (neither turned in nor out) and dorsiflexed (toes to nose) slightly to approximately a 90° angle.

2-The first strip of tape has been applied around the leg above the ankle. It's the first of two anchor strips. The leg at this point is not cylindrically shaped; therefore, the tape must be angled slightly. This slight angling allows the tape to conform smoothly to the shape of the leg.

3-Two more anchors are applied at the instep; the first is applied over the hook of the fifth metatarsal. The tape is applied quite snugly, but not so tightly as to compromise circulation, or exert undue pressure on the hook of the fifth metatarsal.

4-Care must be exercised here that the tension is not so great as to cause discomfort to the athlete when walking, during running, in practice or a game situation. The overlap in adhesive taping is usually one-half to two-thirds of the previous strip. The two upper anchors and two lower anchors have been applied. This delineates the area of the preventive ankle taping.

5-The first stirrup strip is applied. It begins on the medial (inside) aspect of the ankle and continues down, over and behind the medial malleolus, under the foot and arch, up the lateral (outside) aspect of the foot, over and behind the lateral malleolus, and torn off at the upper anchor.

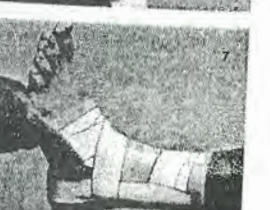

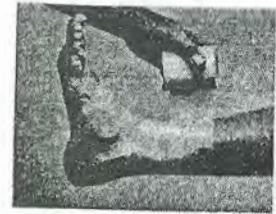

6-The first horizontal strip is started on the medial (inside) aspect of the lower anchor, carried over and below the medial malleolus, behind the Achilles tendon...

7-brought around the ankle to over and below the lateral malleolus, carried across the dorsum (upper part) of the foot, and torn off where the strip was started...we now have one stirrup and one horizontal strip applied.

8-Successive sets of interlocking stirrups and horizontal strips are applied, again overlapping the tape one-half to two-thirds of its width. The tape should be in smooth conformity with a little wrinkling, with snug tension, all pieces overlapped and joined. We see now the completed portion of the closed basket weave with four sets of interlocking stirrups and horizontal strips.

9-The heel lock strip is begun by attaching the tape to the lateral (outside) aspect of the heel, coming across the dorsum (top) of the foot...

10-angling underneath the arch to come up on the outside of the heel, progress behind the heel to come up over and above the medial malleolus...

11-Travel around the ankle and then come down the inside of the heel to come under the arch up just anterior to the lateral malleolus.

12-Continue around the ankle and back to our starting point, to begin the spiral up the leg.

13-The spiral is completed and the tape is torn off. What we have done with this strip of tape is given a lateral heel lock to our closed basket weave. The tape then is continued up in spiral fashion until we have passed the portion of the lower leg that is a cylinder.

14-A new strip is applied in the angle fashion at the upper end of the taping procedure. This is a finish strip that lies in all of the ends. For additional support, more heel locks may be applied. In fact, a medial heel lock may be utilized, beginning on the medial aspect of the heel and using the same pattern as the lateral heel lock but in a reverse manner.

Combination Elastic and Nonelastic Tape Ankle Strapping

A second method of ankle taping is being demonstrated and that is the use of a combination of elastic tape and nonelastic tape. This taping procedure is useful where a great deal of control is not necessary. It is used for an overnight compression period or for the normal activities of daily living.

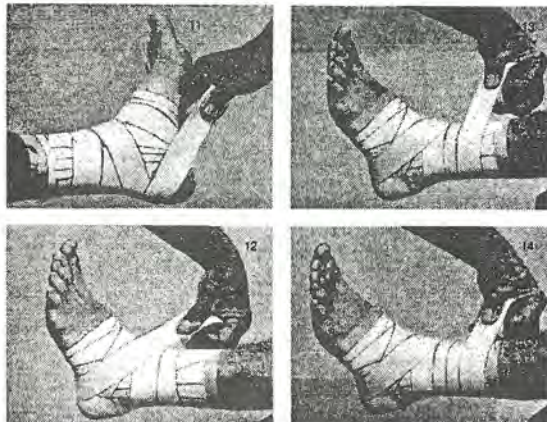

1-The skin has been prepared as usual, the tape adherent applied and a layer of underwrap material wrapped over the extremity for the entire course of the taping procedure. A LITE-FLEX™ Elastic Tape anchor is applied at the upper portion of the foot.

2-We then use nonelastic ZONAS™ Tape, beginning on the medial aspect and applying a series of three or four stirrups. Care was exercised that the stirrup strips did not come over the hook of the fifth metatarsal, and we see also that the last two stirrup strips were angled slightly forward to fit the contours of the leg and allow the tape to be applied smoothly.

3-An elastic tape anchor is applied at the arch. It's begun over the hook of the fifth metatarsal...

4- proceeds around the ankle to the lateral (outside) aspect of the heel, coming across the dorsum (top) of the foot, completing a heel lock. Additional heel-lock patterns may be performed if additional protection is desired.

5-The elastic tape is then spiraled up the leg to the top of the underwrap where it is torn off.

NOTE: While 1½" and 2" width tapes are illustrated and recommended, 1" width tape will be found to be easier to handle and will conform better on smaller-bodied athletes.

In addition, we have used an underwrap in many procedures, but taping directly to the skin in conjunction with the use of tape adherent will provide optimum stabilization and increase the life of the taping procedure.

We also recommend taping directly to the skin without the use of an adherent when using hypoallergenic LITE-FLEX™ Elastic Tape.

Outlook for upcoming season...

Our outlook for 1999-2000 is great. We are hoping for a great summer where our kids will do a lot of wrestling and go to some camps. We look at 1999-2000 with great optimism. We have six state-placers back and four other state qualifiers back. We should be solid with good senior leadership, our seniors have been through this before and we look for them to push the young kids and help them develop the attitude we need to have to be champions. We have kids that set very high goals for themselves and for our team, so we will work hard to improve throughout the year so we can reach our ultimate goal...

Our goal is to finish in the top five every year and next year will be no different but we really would like to contend for a state championship.

Joey Huus	7	103 lbs.
Chris Cook	9	152 or 160 lbs.
James Holle	9	189 lbs.
Nathan Huus	9	112 lbs.

Outlook for upcoming season...

We should be a good wrestling team. We graduated five senior starters, so we have some holes to fill. Seven state qualifiers should give us a good start. If Boehm and Hoesel can return to the finals, the other two placers improve and the qualifiers become placers, we should make the top ten at state and maybe push the top five.

We should be a decent dual meet team but we lack depth if injuries should occur. Look for the likes of Hettinger, Oakes, Lisbon and Harvey to battle for the top spot. Carrington, Bowman, Center, Watford City, Linton and New Salem will do well.

Elton Kills Crow	8	125 lbs.
Carl Iron Eyes	8	103 lbs.
Tom Kuntz	12	Hwt.

Outlook for upcoming season...

The Warriors have three seniors with at least 2 years varsity experience. Just three years ago, we had only three wrestlers who knew what a takedown was.

Josh Luger will be certified at his best competitive weight this year. Last year he gave up some pounds, but I think this year he has a real shot at placing.

Seth Harrison is returning from a great first year last year. He made it to the State Tournament with one good takedown and a lot of strength. Dusty Murphy plans to wrestle at 160 lbs. or even 152. He has turned into a hard worker; from a 215 lb. sophomore to a 170 lb. senior.

In the lighter weights Dion Red Horn could make some waves. He won a tournament last year, and plans on going to state this year. Two eighth-graders and a host of first-year wrestlers fill out a rebuilding team at Standing Rock.

Bridger Bohmbach	10	16-14	125 lbs.
Andy Johnsrud	9	10-8	112 lbs.

Outlook for upcoming season...

The Watford City Wolves return ten wrestlers who saw varsity action from the 1998-99 wrestling team. They are led by Aaron Dougherty, a two-time state place winner, and Josh Norby who placed 6th in last year's state tournament. While the team is going to definitely miss Clay Bohmbach, Levi Wisness, and D.J. Fritel who had three individual championships and three runner-up finishes at the state meet between them, we will have a base to build from. The challenge for the team will be to find leadership to replace the outstanding leaders we have had for the past three years. Besides Aaron and Josh, Chad Scofield, Daniel Leppell, Nathan Wurgler, David Fulwider and Paul Sorenson will be the wrestlers to set the standard for the team. We should have a balanced dual meet team but will have problems in larger tournaments where you need to have proven finalists every week.

North Dakota State University Wrestling Preview

Keyed by two-time All-American Steve Saxlund, who has appeared in the national title bout the past two seasons, and three other All-Americans, North Dakota State University wrestling is poised to rebound from a disappointing 98-99 tournament run.

Wrestling is a proud and storied program at NDSU with 14 conference titles in the last 20 years and national titles in 1988 and 1998 but the finish to the 1999 season was not one to cherish.

The Bison qualified six wrestlers for the '99 NCAA National Championships but finished a distant seventh after falling by one point in defense of their North Central Conference crown two weeks earlier.

Three All-Americans return from that group of qualifiers in Kris Nelson (Lisbon, N.D. @ 133), Steve Saxlund (Pipestone, Minn. @ 174 lbs.) and Wayne Mooney (Greenbush, Minn. @ 157 lbs.) to form the backbone of the 1999-2000 North Dakota State squad along with 1998 All-American Dave Clymer (Hastings, Minn. @ Hwt.).

Veteran head coach Bucky Maughan, opening his 36th season at the helm of the Bison, expects Saxlund be a team leader for the Thundering Herd. Saxlund is 51-10 over his first two years with two conference titles, one national championship, and one runner-up national finish.

There are several other returning grapplers with varsity experience who must step it up and get the job done if the Bison are to be successful.

Coach Maughan expects big seasons from Jake Thielbar (Fairbault, Minn. @ 141 lbs.), Todd Fuller (Maple Lake, Minn. @ 165 lbs.), Bryan Mueller (Hillsboro, N.D. @ 197 lbs.) and Nick Severson (Hayfield, Minn. @ 197 lbs.). "They have all shown tremendous talent and are our future leaders and national contenders," said Maughan. "Now is the time for them to step up to the front."

Other wrestlers who will have the chance to be contenders for NDSU are Chris Moen (Grand Rapids, Minn. @ 184 lbs.), Kyle Pieper (Mountain Lake, Minn. @ 133 lbs.), Chris Rufo (Moanalua, Hawaii. @ 174 lbs.), Grady Wolf (Bismarck, N.D. @ 157 lbs.) and Lance Wurm (Maple Lake, Minn. @ 149 lbs.). "This group of wrestlers have a couple of years of open tournament experience and are ready for 'Prime Time' exposure," said Maughan.

With a strong group of redshirts and excellent freshman and transfer classes, who will challenge the veterans for mat time, the Bison should contend for NCC and NCAA championships.

Here is a breakdown of the 1999-2000 Bison wrestling squad by weight:

University of Mary Wrestling Preview

Continuing its strong presence in NAIA wrestling, the 1998-99 Marauder wrestling team captured its ninth consecutive conference title and advanced 12 wrestlers to take sixth place at the NAIA National Tournament.

All of the Marauders return from last year's team, making this season look very promising as U-Mary hunts for the national title. Returning All-Americans include Jeremy Engelhardt, national champion at 174 lbs.; Pat Runex, second at 125 lbs.; Brian Zehren, third at 141 lbs.; Justine Currie, fifth at 157 lbs.; and Jason Hatchett, eighth at 184 lbs.

The Marauders will be aided by their strong recruiting class, Randy Gust, the 1999 North Dakota State Champion (197); Aaron Hartnell, two-time Montana State Champion and second at the National High School Meet (125); Nick Holwegner, North Dakota State Champion (149); Sammy Reyna, fourth place finisher at the California Greco Championships; Ryan Weigel, second place (149) at the North Dakota State Championships; and Danny Williams, three-time North Dakota State Placer and eighth place winner at the Greco Nationals.

"This team is the best I've had in terms of self-motivation. They hit the weights on their own and are very self-driven." Says Head Coach Milo Trusty. "This team is young but solid - they will grow into something big.

This season marks the thirteenth year for the U-Mary program and Trusty has his sights set on the national title.

Milo Trusty Head Coach

Head Coach Milo Trusty enters his thirteenth season with the U-Mary wrestling program. Under his leadership, he has guided 50 All-Americans, nine national champions, and watched his teams go 110-10 overall in duals.

Trusty says the Marauders' success boils down to a strong work ethic. "Our wrestlers want to succeed and are willing to put in the work. By the end of the year, the guys are like a family because they have to work together to get through the workouts and through the season. They work together to reach their daily goals throughout the season."

A former wrestling standout at Valley City State University, Trusty's coaching experience includes stints at Bismarck and Century High Schools, Bismarck State College, and Umpqua Community College in Oregon. He founded Mat Pac wrestling in 1978, a youth wrestling program that has produced over 400 state champions and more than 100 national and regional champions.

Dickinson State University Wrestling Preview

We have come to the end of another season and of which was successful. We finished 10th in the Nation. The Hawks had four All-Americans. Ben Beckler and Jesse Beckler from Mandan, N.D., Brett Nedens from Hardin, Mont., Matt Meyer from Gladstone, N.D. Ben Beckler was also voted Outstanding Graduating Senior of the NDCAC Conference.

The recruiting process has started and once again we are looking for quality athletes to come into a competitive room. We have two seniors on the 1999 team and will have 5 seniors on the 2000 team. Our roster boast 40 young men battling for the ten starting spots. The team is a very competitive one in which we compete with all Divisions from NCAA Div I to the JUCO's. We are looking to bring in 15 freshman that we believe will make an impact on our program and help our quest to obtain our team goals of Conference, Regionals and National Champs... it takes but a single grain of rice to tip the scale."

If you are interested in pursuing your wrestling career please use the e-mail address or call the 1-800-279-4295 and ask for Coach O'Donnell.

The Coaches Thadd O'Donnell Head Coach

Now beginning his fourth season as head wrestling coach. Thadd O'Donnell guided the Blue Hawks to a third place regional finish in 1997-98 and was named NDCAC Coach of the Year. He also earned "Co-Great Plains Region Coach of the Year" honors after directing his young squad to a fourth place regional finish in 1995-96.

O'Donnell, a native of Baker, Mont., received a bachelor of science degree in physical education from Dickinson State University in 1991, and a master's degree in physical education from Northern State University in Aberdeen, S.D. in 1993. While at Northern State University, he also served as assistant wrestling coach.

A three-time All-American at 134 lbs. for the Blue Hawks. O'Donnell holds the school record for most pins in a season (20 in 1985-86), and most wins by a freshman (36 in 1985-86). O'Donnell also helped lead the 1985-86 Blue Hawks to an eighth place team finish at the NAIA Tournament, the highest finish ever for a Dickinson State wrestling team.

In addition to serving as head wrestling coach, O'Donnell is an assistant football coach and an instructor of health and physical education.

He and his wife Tracie have two children, Danielle and Seth.

Joel Meyer Assistant Coach

A three-time All-American at Dickinson State. Joel Meyer is now in his fourth season as an assistant wrestling coach.

Meyer earned All-American status following his sophomore, junior, and senior years as a wrestler. After qualifying for the national tournament as a freshman, he finished seventh in the 177 lbs. class as a sophomore, second at 190 as a junior, and third at 190 as a senior, when he posted a 35-3 record with 13 falls.

He is a 1991 graduate of Trinity High School in Dickinson, N.D., and is also a graduate of Dickinson State, earning a bachelor of science degree in physical education.

Jamestown College Wrestling Preview

Jimmys Excited About Upcoming Season The Jimmies lost only one senior to graduation last year and expect to be very competitive this year. Seven returnees are expected to step forward as the leaders. Of those seven, the Jimmies return three national qualifiers: Jayme Depee, Ryan Cornell and James Esser. Coming off redshirt and expected to have an immediate impact are Pete Hildebrand, Lucas Lucier, Josh Erckenbrack and Mikkey White. With this blend of talent and work ethic the Jimmies are expected to return to national contention.
